Compassion,

Christians believe that the ultimate miracle of Jesus was his resurrection.

The ability to rise from the dead three days after being crucified is proof that he was divine as only God has power over life and death.

Some Christians choose to go on a pilgrimage to the Holy Land. This is where Jesus is believed to have been born and lived.

Pilgrimage

Pilgrimage is not compulsory in Christianity but many choose to do it to feel more connected to the worldwide community of Christians.

Some people go on a pilgrimage when they are looking for a miracle. The pilgrimage can help them overcome something in their life that is difficult.
